

About us

Company founded in 2004 as a software house. Over time it got specialized in developing specific messaging solutions for big Companies needing a strategic communication.

All the skills and competence got in the business communication field allow setting the Company up as system integrator to design and realize highly specialized messaging systems.

Lillytone Communications Ltd proposes extra-tested standard solutions, but in particular customized systems according to the Client's specifications.

Thanks to the collaboration with the biggest hardware and software producers realizing ad hoc components, Lillytone Communications Ltd guarantees the reliability of its solutions not surprisingly used by the most important phone carriers.

In these years Lillytone Communications Ltd invested in an operational structure able to meet the different and specific assistance demands of the Customers having actually realised how important this is for them.

Besides, Lillytone Communications Ltd is the European owner of Digitaldox®, the platform in ASP (application service provider) successfully used in different countries for managing massive quantity of messages.